

It Was Raining When She Saw Him

It was raining when she saw him.
It was raining when they met.
It was pouring when they fell in love,
the streets were dark and wet.

It was raining when they parted.
There were dark clouds in the sky.
It was raining when he left her,
when he turned and said "Good-bye."

Yesterday It Rained and Rained

Yesterday it rained and rained.
Yesterday it poured.
Yesterday the streets were wet.
The children all were bored.
The people stayed indoors all day.
There wasn't much to do.
At last it stopped. We stepped outside.
A rainbow! There! For you!

Saturday Morning

First I called my mother.
We talked for an hour.
Then I played tennis,
went home, and took a shower.
I went to the kitchen,
made a cup of tea,
took out my English book,
and studied carefully.
I finished all my homework
without a mistake.
Then I decided to take a little break.
I sat down for a minute to watch TV,
fell asleep, and woke up at three.

What's the Matter with Bob?

What's the matter with Bob?
He lost his job.
What's wrong with Sue?
She got the flu.
What's the matter with Jack?
His check came back.
What's wrong with Bill?
He got a chill.
What's wrong with Peg?
She broke her leg.
What happened to Rose?
She bumped her nose.
